

WOODROW WILSON

President of the United States

"HE HAS KEPT US OUT OF WAR"

This is the face of a man strong, courageous, patient and kindly, a man—

Always alert to the aspirations of his fellow-man and sympathetic toward their fulfillment;

Never complacent toward the encroachments of privilege nor tolerant of social wrong;

Always seeking to enhance the dignity of labor and better the state of the toiler;

Never lending an ear to the sophistry of exploitation or the blandishments of expediency;

Always patient to hear and weigh, to appraise and analyze, and passionate to find the way of right;

Never premature in purpose nor prejudiced in judgment, and never headlong in decision—

Such is WOODROW WILSON.

THE NEW TRUST.

It is all over but the voting—and then, Wilson for Four Years More! Four years more of peace and prosperity while the wheels of the nation drive on toward our destined goal—World Leadership!

That is to be our destiny.

Nothing can stop it but a return to the reactionary party which for forty years saved its bosses' bacon while the people, the great American people, struggled onward toward individual and collective freedom.

Yes, the nation came into its own not because but in spite of the Republican Party. It was the American people who cleared the forests, drained the swamps, blazed the trails, opened the mines, dug the coal and the gold, made the prairies into wheat and corn fields, and fenced in the great plains for cattle.

The American people, sprung from the loins of men who dared and women who toiled, have laid the foundation of the greatest Republic known to history, and raised thereon the fairest flower of civilization in all the world.

All this has been done despite the handicap of Political Bosses and the usurious toll of Predatory Interests.

While the Pioneer grew into the Settler and the Settler became the Farmer and yellowed the vast plains with the bearded grain and browned them with the russet corn—

While barefooted children trudged down the shady lane or over the long hill to the little red school house to read of the wisdom of their Benjamin Franklin, the patriotism of their Patrick Henry, the ingenuity of their Robert Fulton, Eli Whitney, and Robert Hoe, the democracy of their Jefferson, of the only Washington who Fathered his country, of the immortal Lincoln who saved, and whose spirit will forever unite the nation—

While these little children around the old stove sang "My Country, 'tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty"—

While these same little children at night at their mother's knee learned to bow their heads to their God who had given them birth in the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave—

While simple men sweated and toiled on and loved their work and their home and their country—

While sweet faced mothers delved in toil and span strong men to do the nation's work:

Greed crept forth clad in frock coats and a well distended skin and an oily tongue, and slowly, surely, insidiously gathered up the fruits of the sweat and the harvest of the fields, orchards and mines, and by special privilege, by fraud, by bribe, by graft, by trickery, by knavery, by treachery, yes, and by treason, caused themselves to become the richest clique known in the world's history.

The core of this clique is the permanent inner ring, the Invisible Government of the Republican Party.

This clique, disagreeing on a candidate four years ago, fell out, and the American people came back into their own under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, who has held inviolably sacred that trust thus put into his hands by Fate. And by the grace of God the American People propose to go on with that tried, true, great man who trusts them because he knows they trust him.

Woodrow Wilson is a new Trust in America—greater than all others—greater because he stands for no Trust, is backed by no Trust, and is the candidate of no Trust, but is the trust of the whole American people, who love him because he has kept them out of war, honor him for his courageous Christian humanity, and thank him for his broad statesmanship and his fearless, intelligent leadership.

By his deeds and by his acts, as well as by the enemies he has made, his place in the roll of American honor is secure—Washington, Lincoln, Wilson.

Woodrow Wilson deserves the vote of every man and every woman in every state in the Union.

AGRICULTURAL EFFICIENCY

Commenting on the Good Roads

Law in the September number of Review of Reviews, the editor pays high tribute to the Honorable David E. Houston, secretary of Agriculture, and to the Democratic administration for putting such a law in operation. The Review of Reviews also carries in the September number an article by Secretary Houston outlining the provisions of the Good Roads Law and showing the benefit to result from it. The editor says:

"Perhaps its most important result will be the stimulus it will afford to what is now a nation wide movement for improving the highways, together with the benefit that will come from the government's supervision of methods used to obtain desired ends. As Dr. Houston's article shows, the new method is in accord with the views and efforts of the Department of Agriculture. The Secretary has a profound grasp of the principles of economics as applied to agriculture. Without neglecting a thing that pertains to larger and better farm production, he has devoted himself especially to the farmer's problems of marketing and finance. Systematic and highly intelligent research and study has resulted in achievements that few people have appreciated in their entirety and in their aspects as parts of a consistent and notable policy."

I call your attention to the fact that there is nowhere recorded a single Wilson policy. Everything that I have asked that Congress to do was written in the pledges of the party itself.—Woodrow Wilson.

MATRIMONY NOT A POPULAR VOCATION

"Matrimony is my intended vocation," wrote one young woman student in the University of Kansas in giving information required in enrolling. Of the 1,098 women students in the University she was the only one even to hint she expected to be married. Seven hundred and nine of her university sisters expressed an ambition to be teachers.

While 65 per cent of the University women say they expect to become teachers, Kansas women are refusing to stick to the one dedicated profession to women and are reaching out into other work. One woman entered the school of engineering this year; another the school of law. One woman hopes for a motion picture career, another says she is going to be merely a plain business woman, four are specializing in dramatic art and one prospective missionary is enrolled with two medical missionaries among the fifteen women who are studying medicine. Three women are to be druggists, four wish to be nurses, one hankers to do entomologist illustrating, another craves photography. Two women will strive to out do man in scientific research, three hope to be expert technicians, one is preparing to be a librarian, twenty-seven are acquiring a nose for news in the journalism field while two are cultivating the "gift of gab" so vitally necessary to lecture work.

An essayist, a bacteriologist and an interior decorator will intrude into more of the fields men are supposed to want to keep themselves and four will become physical instructors; two social workers and two play ground workers. Of the remaining 312 women students in the University 100 plan to be teachers of public music or concert players, 190 signified no intended vocation and 32 admitted they were undecided, which may mean an addition to the solitary matrimony class or more teachers.

A GREAT SOUL'S LEADERSHIP

A few months ago Mr. William Allen White published in the Emporia Gazette a striking tribute to President Wilson's handling of the foreign crisis. In a letter dated September 15, 1916, Mr. White wrote to the Kansas Democratic State Committee: "I have no hesitation in standing for it personally. . . . I have just reread it. I remember well writing it and am proud that I did write it."

The editorial referred to in the letter was in part as follows: "How well he seems to have managed it—this whole sordid business of going to war; how fair he has been; how patient, how dignified, how infinitely gentle and kind! No bluster, no threats, no snicker of anticipation, no licking of nation's chops—just a simple-minded, soft-hearted, hard-headed man. It is sad enough to go into war of any kind at any time; but it is less sad to go, knowing that every honorable means has been taken to keep away from war. And this consolation President Wilson has given us by his wise, forbearing, Christian attitude before the provocation of a foe mad and desperate and foolish. The good God who knows and watches over all and sees all and directs all, was in our hearts deeper than we knew when as a nation we chose the great, serene soul to lead us."
